

“Enhancing Interprofessional
Collaboration and Learning for Strengthening Primary Health Care”

July 21-23, 2021

Faculty of Medicine, Public Health and Nursing
Universitas Gadjah Mada
Yogyakarta, Indonesia

TUFH THE NETWORK:
2021 TOWARD UNITY
FOR HEALTH

Supported by:

TUFH 2021 ABSTRACTS

Title	AFRI-UIPE
Type	Oral Presentation Innovative Ways for Community Mobilization and Engagement of Stakeholders
1st Author	MARY SHOWSTARK
Co-Authors	CHAMPION NYONI, ANDY WISS, DAWN JOOSTEN-HAGYE, ERIN EMBRY, HANLIE PITOUT, ESMERALDA RICKS, RENEE CAVEZZA, NHLANGANISO NYATHI, GERARD FILIES, PEG SLUSSER
Country	UNITED STATES
Abstract N ^o	TUFH633
Content	AFRI-UIPE originated from UIPE: Virtual Interprofessional Education. UIPE is a collaborative of several universities in the United States: Yale, NYU, USC, GW, and Georgetown who initially came together in 2017 out of the need to give their students an IP experience. All of our programs are online. We recognized that we all had a shared interest in IPE and volunteered to be a part of this committee. We hosted our first UIPE in 2018 giving students asynchronous content and synchronous opportunities. We were accepted to present at the 2nd IPE and collaborative practice for africa in summer 2019 in Nairobi, Kenya. From there many conference attendees expressed interest in creating a similar initiative throughout Africa. From there we created AFRI-UIPE which was held during the height of the pandemic to include 399 participants, 27 universities and 29 different healthcare professions.